Dear Friends and Supporters

Thank you for another impactful year of helping and inspiring people through running. Because of you, we are able to reach and serve 670,000 people across a variety of communities. As we close Fiscal Year 19 (April 2018—March 2019), we reflect and celebrate with all of you—our supporters, partners, members, and participants—the inspiring moments that you helped make possible.

Throughout 2018, we celebrated 60 years of serving the running community, and in 2019 we are celebrating 20 years of providing free youth programming. We began the 20th anniversary festivities right where it all started, in Red Hook, Brooklyn, with a 1 for You 1 for Youth shoe distribution where we distributed the 20,000th pair of free running shoes to children in our program. This year we served 250,000 youth through programs and events across more than 1,300 sites in 43 states and launched Rising New York Road Runners in Puerto Rico with nine new sites across the island! These milestones highlight our legacy of giving back and our continued commitment to serving the community.

The ability to serve athletes of a wide range of ages and abilities from around the world uniquely positions us to create significant impact. There's a program, event, or NYRR RUNCENTER class for anyone and everyone. Thanks to our year-round race calendar, headlined by the TCS New York City Marathon, the largest marathon in the world, we are able to continue expanding our global impact.

As you read further, you'll encounter the inspiring stories of three remarkable individuals who embody the determination and strength required for achievement: Daniel, a participant in our Rising New York Road Runners Wheelchair Training Program who challenges himself on and off the roads; "Moose," a member of NYRR Striders who faced health issues head on post-retirement to improve his life; and Elizabeth, who entered the world of running in high school through our Run for the Future program and continues her journey with the help of NYRR Race Free.

These are just a few of the individuals impacted and empowered through New York Road Runners' free programming, made accessible to them, and thousands like them, thanks to your support. Being able to share these stories of hope and triumph is not only our privilege, but also our responsibility. The dedication, commitment, and confidence it takes to overcome is within all of us, and we are proud to be able to create the opportunities and platform to showcase these stories for all 670,000 people we impacted this past year.

Like all runners, we keep our eyes on the road ahead, and as we perpetually envision a world where everyone benefits from running, we know we can only inch closer to that goal with your continued support and partnership. Here's to another year of impact!

See you on the roads,

GEORGE HIRSCH

Your Support Has Helped Us Impact So Many

For over 60 years, you've helped transform countless lives through running by ensuring New York Road Runners serves the communities of New York City's five boroughs and the larger global running community through world-class events, community programs, and for the last 20 years, an increasing commitment to inspiring the next generation of runners. Since 1999, our always-free youth running programs have grown from one after-school program in Red Hook, Brooklyn to a national program annually serving 250,000 youth across 43 states, Washington, DC, and as of this year, Puerto Rico.

With your support, we seek to continue fulfilling our mission to help and inspire people through running by providing vital access to the sport, year after year.

20 Years of Free Youth Running

○ 1999

NYRR Foundation

Our commitment to free running for youth began in January 1999 in an after-school program at a public school in Red Hook, Brooklyn.

○ 1999

First Run with Champions

This fun event, held during New York City Marathon week, has NYC youth running with professional athletes and celebrities. Now in its 20th year, the TCS Run with Champions features nearly 1,000 youth.

TOP: Grete Waitz, 1999

BOTTOM: Jenny Simpson, 2018

In 2019, New York Road Runners is excited to celebrate 20 years of free youth running. Why a commitment to free? Because we believe in providing access to activity, building a passion for physical fitness, and inspiring confident movement in youth of every age.

Thanks to your continued support, what started as an after-school program at one school in Red Hook, Brooklyn has soared to become a free, fun, and accessible program serving 1,363 schools and community centers in NYC and across the U.S., primarily through Rising New York Road Runners.

“I learned to commit myself to others. That’s one thing that being a part of New York Road Runners instilled in me, and that I now teach my students. Having Rising New York Road Runners in my school provides me the opportunity to see their personal growth.”

FRANKELLY FERNANDEZ NYRR youth program alumna, current coach in the Bronx

Team for Kids

○ 2002

NYRR Team for Kids established

In the first year, 135 Team for Kids runners raised approximately $180,000 to support the New York Road Runners Foundation.

PUTTING IN MILES THAT TRULY MATTER

Team for Kids is integral to giving youth across the country the opportunity to experience the joys of running and fitness. This dedicated group of adult runners has been adding meaning to their miles since 2002 and continues to inspire the next generation by example. The funds they raise at the TCS New York City Marathon, and other races in the city and throughout the world, ensure that young runners can participate in our programs and events at no cost. Posting a record-breaking year, more than 5,473 runners helped raise $8.9 million, including $6.6 million at the 2018 TCS New York City Marathon.

Rising New York Road Runners Events

○ 2004

First Jamboree

NYRR welcomes over 1,200 youth and 300 parents to the first annual New York Road Runners Foundation Jamboree, a collaborative event produced by NYRR, the Armory Foundation, and the Children's Hospital of New York-Presbyterian.

INSPIRING THROUGH INCLUSION

Why are our youth events on the rise? Because we want as many of our community youth as possible to experience not only the joys of running, but also the excitement of seeing just how much they are capable of. Each time they participate, they are developing fundamental movement skills, learning better sportsmanship, setting and achieving personal goals, and experiencing healthy, age-appropriate competition. We strive to provide as many opportunities as possible for our Rising New York Road Runners to lace up and run—including events concurrent with our adult races and yearly youth-only cross country and track meets.

Rising New York Road Runners Off to Summer Camp

○ 2004

First kids go to summer camp

New York Road Runners begins to provide opportunities for youth program participants to attend a week-long overnight running camp outside New York City—a once-in-a-lifetime experience.

WITH YOUR DONATIONS, WE DRIVE INDEPENDENCE, CONFIDENCE, AND INSPIRATION

Running, enjoying the great outdoors, forging lasting friendships, and growing stronger and more confident are all things our Rising New York Road Runners have taken away from attending running-focused sleepaway camp. Thanks to the support of the Gray Foundation and friends, the Evan Seigerman Scholarship Fund was created to help youth not only improve their running but also just enjoy being kids in nature, outside of their typical city lives. To date, 597 youth from across New York City, nominated by their coaches for their effort, attitude, future promise, and love of running, have been able to experience this once-in-a-lifetime positive opportunity.

NYRR's commitment to providing free and fun programs and fostering teamwork, confidence, and fitness is unwavering as we look ahead to the next 20 years.

Rising New York Road Runners

○ 2005

Program expands nationally

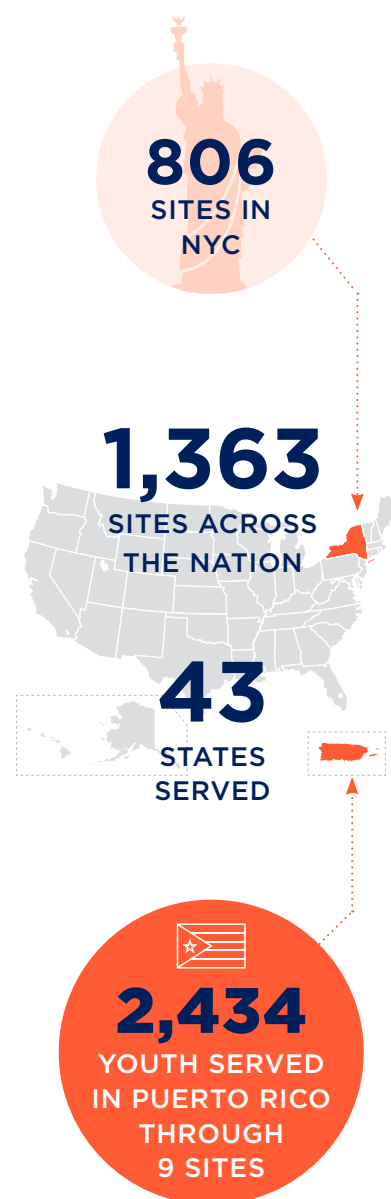

New York Road Runners Foundation expands beyond New York City to serve youth and schools nationwide, starting with a site in Florida.

BUILDING CONFIDENCE WHEREVER POSSIBLE

We believe all youth deserve the opportunity to experience the transformative power of running. And that starts with the skills, confidence, and motivation to be active for life. Introduced in 2017 as an evolution of previous offerings based on latest research learnings in physical activity, Rising New York Road Runners teaches fundamental movement skills in an age- and ability-appropriate way. This introduction to healthy physical activity early on builds confidence and makes participants more likely to maintain an active lifestyle throughout adulthood.

In 2019, Rising New York Road Runners expanded to Puerto Rico. We were able to distribute free New Balance running shoes and launch the program at nine locations through partnerships with Puerto Rican Olympian Beverly Ramos and the Boys & Girls Clubs of Puerto Rico.

Rising New York Road Runners Youth Ambassadors

○ 2010

Youth Ambassadors program launches

Why a youth ambassadors program? So we can further champion younger runners and develop the valuable confidence they are proven to gain through running. Rising New York Road Runners Youth Ambassadors represent and help bring to life our fundamental mission.

“I was diagnosed on the autism spectrum when I was 3. It has made a lot of things a little difficult for me growing up. Becoming a youth ambassador gave me the skills to know how to give a speech in public, by making eye contact and having my thoughts and ideas prepared ahead of time, which is great for me. With my speech skills, I am excited to help lots of kids get into running so they can love it and it can help them too.”

WILFRIN FERNANDEZ-CRUZ

INVESTING IN THEIR FUTURE

We created the Rising New York Road Runners Youth Ambassadors program to give young runners a chance to share the special role that running plays in their lives—in their own voices, through special events and opportunities, and with their own communities. After graduating from the program, which is centered around speech fundamentals and public-speaking training workshops, the Rising New York Road Runners Youth Ambassadors are able to stand with NYRR and join us in our mission to help inspire people through running. Over the past year they’ve jumped in to help us ring the closing bell at the New York Stock Exchange on Wall Street, throw out the first pitch at Citi Field on Global Running Day, represent NYRR at a New York Islanders game, march in the TCS New York City Marathon Opening Ceremony, and even introduce the professional athletes at TCS New York City Marathon press conferences.

NYRR Run for the Future is formed to serve girls entering their senior year of high school with no prior engagement in organized sports.

FUELED WITH THE TOOLS TO TRIUMPH

We believe that confidence, commitment, perseverance, and goal-setting are all important traits necessary for success on the roads and in the classroom. That's why through the seven-week Run for the Future Program, NYRR helps build these skills in young female participants as they're introduced to running, health, and fitness. Generously started by Cathy and Marc Lasry, now supported by many, this initiative gets the girls on track to run their first road race at the Percy Sutton Harlem 5K. In addition to running tips and training plans, the program teaches the importance of a healthy lifestyle and other valuable lessons through workshops with professionals, elite athletes, and industry leaders. The best part: Our participants develop noticeably greater levels of confidence and strength in mind, body, and spirit—not to mention receiving a $2,000 college scholarship for completing the program! Since the beginning, 377 girls in total have completed Run for the Future.

We believe running should be all-inclusive. Thanks to generous donors, the Rising New York Road Runners Wheelchair Training Program ensures all youth have the opportunity to lead a physically active life and regularly experience the benefits of running. The program sets up our participants with everything they need to run: chair, gloves, coaching, and even transportation to the practice site. It gives them the ability to experience Rising New York Road Runners events along with their friends, train weekly with world-class Paralympic coaches, and interact with accomplished and inspiring professional wheelchair athletes.

“This program has helped me to set goals for myself and helped me to determine my long term goal of becoming a pro wheelchair athlete.”

After finding out about NYRR online, Daniel was instantly interested in how he, too, could access the sport of running. In the fall of 2018 he signed up, and immediately fell in love with racing. Since then he's participated in Rising New York Road Runners youth races at the New Balance 5th Avenue Mile and the United Airlines NYC Half, as well as three track meets, and trains on his own when he isn't at a Rising New York Road Runners event. His continued participation has encouraged him to become more independent.

As part of a commitment started in 2007 to provide youth with the access they need to be physically active, NYRR gives its 20,000th pair of shoes to a child.

YOUR SUPPORT MEANS EVEN MORE MILES RUN

One of the most beautiful things about running is all that's required is a pair of shoes and some inspiration. So as part of providing youth with everything they need to be confident movers, we kicked off 2019, and marked our 20-year milestone, by distributing our 20,000th pair of shoes. In partnership with New Balance, and as part of our shared 1 for You 1 for Youth* initiative, this special event was hosted at the original 1999 location of our youth program—Red Hook, Brooklyn. We continue to distribute high-quality running shoes to youth in need—increasing inclusivity for the sport we all love.

COMMUNITY IMPACT

Running and walking have the power to foster positive change in both people and their communities. That's why we continually create and plan opportunities that encourage and inspire people from ages 2 to 107 to experience the camaraderie of running together.

NYRR Open Run

“What sets Open Run apart from other groups is that it truly is a melting pot of runners. From more experienced runners to those coming out to walk for their first time, we all enjoy putting in the miles, and cheering each other on to our next goal.”

DENISE MONROE

VOLUNTEERING KEEPS THINGS FREE AND FUN

We want to make sure that nothing gets in the way of uniting communities through running. That's why Open Run was born—curating easy-to-attend events that are both free and pressure free. Through NYRR Open Run, we're creating running oases in neighborhood parks. Through the creation of safe spaces and communities of runners, Open Run embodies the transformative power of running in people of all ages and abilities. It's inspiring. It's inclusive. The NYRR RUNCENTER is home to an inclusive running community based in New York City, comprised of people with all different fitness levels and running paces. By bringing together our members, partners, and runners from all walks of life, we've created an engaging and supportive environment committed to personal growth.

This space, along with the support of our passionate expert staff, helps runners meet their fitness goals, whatever they may be. We offer a variety of group runs, fitness classes, education panels, entertainment events, and more—all tailored to benefit runners of all varieties. We also provide race support services for our NYRR races, including bib pickup, course strategy sessions, and medal engraving.

After retirement, Juan “Moose” Gonzalez found himself bored and facing health issues that were making his daily life increasingly difficult. Realizing that his post-retirement lifestyle was incompatible with his long-term health goals, especially after the birth of his granddaughter, Moose looked for options. He discovered

NYRR Striders, a community-based walking program for older adults that meets weekly at senior centers across the five boroughs, and decided to try it.

Moose loved Striders because it allowed him to walk regularly, stay active, and channel extra energy. He met and connected with like-minded seniors who shared his interests. Walking with a group motivated him on days when he would have stayed inside and gave him a new lease on life. He noticed tangible health improvements, dropping 80 pounds, making it easier for him to keep up with his granddaughter. It’s safe to say he won’t be retiring his walking shoes any time soon.

RUNNING FORWARD

JOINT IMPACT

Having transformed lives through running for over 60 years, NYRR knows the positive ripple-effect running can have on people and their communities. We partner with other organizations so we can make an even greater impact.

The Trust for Public Land

YOUR CONTRIBUTIONS HELP US COVER MORE GROUND

It's vital to create safe and fun places in local areas for neighbors to engage, because it helps ensure healthy, livable communities for generations to come. That's why over the last year, NYRR has partnered with The Trust for Public Land to take four asphalt schoolyards and turn them into beautiful, state-of-the-art community playgrounds. The four playgrounds, located in the East Flatbush, East Elmhurst, Great Kills, and Bushwick neighborhoods, bring the total to seven playgrounds constructed across all five boroughs as a result of the partnership.

The Armory Foundation

OUR IMPACT WIDENS THROUGH PARTNERS WHO SHARE OUR VISION

NYRR partners with The Armory Foundation, an organization that is committed to promoting fitness and education by utilizing a broad range of community programming along with its 65,000-square-foot arena to keep local youth on track toward bright futures serving 125,000 youth annually. Since 2014, we have served as a valued partner of the NYRR Millrose Games—the most prestigious and longest-running indoor track and field competition in the world.

Running Clubs

SEASONED, OR JUST STARTING OUT—THERE'S A CLUB FOR YOU

Our partnership with local clubs is yet another way we fulfill our mission to help and inspire people through running. We provide clubs with a structure and forum through our races and Club Points series. Each running club has its own unique history, purpose, and goals, representing the vitality and diversity of the New York City running scene.

“New York Road Runners’ unwavering support for the local running clubs makes it possible for clubs at all levels to compete in a fair, safe, and fun environment week after week, from the marathon, to the NYRR Team Championships, to our personal favorite, the Front Runners New York LGBT Pride Run.”

Global Running Day

YOU'VE HELPED US HIT THE PAVEMENT ACROSS THE PLANET

Why do people around the world all pledge to run on the same day? To make a statement on a global scale about the power of running and to celebrate the community that unites us all. Each year we rally alongside these international runners as they celebrate their passion for hitting the road—together.

In the sport of running, there's no better place to celebrate than the finish line, which is why in 2018 NYRR celebrated its 60th anniversary on Global Running Day with 60 finish lines across New York City's five boroughs including in the Bronx's Macombs Dam Park (where NYRR was founded on June 4, 1958) and in Central Park with New York City Marathon champions Kathrine Switzer, Meb Keflezighi, and Tatyana McFadden; as well as in Portland, OR, with 2017 TCS New York City Marathon champion Shalane Flanagan and in Amsterdam with Rising New York Road Runners Ambassador & Special Advisor Jenny Simpson.

Few things are more inspiring than the faces of runners crossing the finish line every year on the first Sunday of November at the TCS New York City Marathon, New York Road Runners' flagship event. Each of the (world-record breaking!) 52,813 finishers inspire all those around them through their journey to the finish line—including the millions of fans watching live from the course or via the global television broadcast. It's a beautiful celebration of our sport.

The TCS New York City Marathon is a founding member of the Abbott World Marathon Majors, a series consisting of six of the largest and most renowned marathons in the world in Tokyo, Boston, London, Berlin, Chicago and New York City.

This year, Daniel Romanchuk, Manuela Schär, Lelisa Desisa, and Mary Keitany led the field, and Team #MovedMe (new in 2018) highlighted the transformative power of running. All while the hearts and legs of 10,000 charity runners generated a record $40 million.

WE BELIEVE YOU CAN SET GOALS AND ACHIEVE THEM ANYWHERE

As part of our mission to help and inspire as many people as possible through running, we tapped into the unlimited reach of technology to extend access beyond physical boundaries and create a community of runners that breaks the boundaries of location. The NYRR Virtual Racing series, launched with Strava in 2018, expands our community’s global footprint and encourages more people of all ages and abilities to get out and run. Proceeds from these virtual races benefit NYRR’s youth and community programs.

Elizabeth began her running journey in 2011 as one of 20 young women selected to the first class of NYRR Run for the Future. Though she'd never given running much thought, Elizabeth knew that a college scholarship would go a long way toward her eventual bachelor's degree from John Jay College of Criminal Justice.

"I would say running that summer and getting to know my full potential through completing the program was perhaps the most rewarding thing I've ever done, and helped me to overcome my low self-esteem as a result of being uncomfortable in my own skin," she said.

Elizabeth still continues her running journey with the help of NYRR Race Free. As it has for so many other members of the running community, the sport has become her therapy and has contributed to her healthy lifestyle and improved self-confidence.

"NYRR Race Free has helped me run races I would never imagine I could do," said Elizabeth. "Races set goals for me and are a reminder to still get out and run even if it's too hot, or too cold, or too hard."

The TCS interactive video game Marathon City - Sprint to Win inspired people of all physical abilities.

“Whether we’re promoting active lifestyles to foster healthy minds and bodies, providing teachers and students with the computational tools to prepare them for 21st century careers or leveraging the latest technologies to enhance the TCS New York City Marathon experience for racers and spectators alike, we are very proud that our shared passion of such pursuits are having such a positive impact throughout New York City, nationwide and globally,”

SURY KANT President of North America, UK and Europe, TCS

Premier Partner

Tata Consultancy Services

The commitment of our year-round premier partner, Tata Consultancy Services (TCS), is helping advance NYRR's mission of helping and inspiring people through running. TCS recognizes the path to a fruitful and happy life is through a balanced mind, body, and spirit. To date, nearly 5,000 Team TCS runners have participated in NYRR events and donated more than 3,350 TCS volunteer hours.

With our title partner, we continue to take strides forward in enhancing the world's largest marathon by making it the most technologically advanced. Beyond the continued evolution of the TCS New York City Marathon app, TCS is driving unique augmented and virtual reality initiatives to enhance the runner and spectator experience and supporting predictive analytics via Performance Metrics powered by TCS.

TCS is also a supporter of NYRR's youth and community programs and shares our commitment to making a positive impact in communities where it operates. As an extension of TCS' commitment to STEM education and empowering local communities, TCS awards 50 teachers with a passion for STEM education and physical fitness a complimentary entry to run the TCS New York City Marathon.

New Balance and New Balance Foundation

Running can transform lives and has the power to create communities. It lifts people up and gets them moving. These are a few of the many reasons New Balance is a proud supporter of NYRR and partners with us in our mission to help and inspire people through running. In addition to their partnership, New Balance Foundation is a national supporter of Rising New York Road Runners. The Foundation shares our commitment to providing more kids in more communities with access to all of running's incredible benefits. Their support provides kids across the country with access to our premier school-based program that builds physical literacy through teaching fundamental movement skills and confident through participation.

“Rising New York Road Runners stood out to us as an emerging, premier running program that would help us achieve our goal of preventing childhood obesity and championing the future success of today’s youth. Together with New York Road Runners, we can help close the opportunity gap around health and physical activity.”
—Anne Davis, Managing Trustee, New Balance Foundation

Official Charity Partners

YOU'VE MADE OUR IMPACT UNDENIABLE

It is with sincere gratitude we can report that in Fiscal Year 19 our runners raised more than $45 million for our Official Charity Partners at the 2018 TCS New York City Marathon and the 2019 United Airlines NYC Half. This includes a record $40 million raised through the hearts and legs of the 10,000 TCS New York City Marathon Charity runners. This outpouring of support for NYRR and our charity partners is the reason we can keep helping and inspiring people through running year after year.

Since its inception in 2006, the TCS New York City Marathon Official Charity Partner Program has helped over 1,000 charities raise more than $310 million, establishing the event as a significant charity outlet. And with CrowdRise, the TCS New York City Marathon's official fundraising partner platform, the numbers climb even higher as runners are able to raise funds for any charity they choose.

Run for the Future honored at the annual gala

NYRR Night of Champions November 2, 2018

A fun, festive evening in support of our free youth and community programs, NYRR Night of Champions celebrates our amazing impact and the distinguished honorees who live our mission. This soiree in the Marathon Pavilion brings together runners, supporters, and partners who share the common goal of helping and inspiring our community through running.

Last year's record-setting event, raising more than a million dollars, honored

Civic Champion Cathy Lasry, founding donor of Run for the Future; and Athlete Champion Shalane Flanagan, Team for Kids Ambassador, Run for the Future Race Buddy, and 2017 TCS New York City Marathon champion. Peter Ciaccia also received a presentation of the Samuel Rudin Award on the eve of his final TCS New York City Marathon as race director and president of events at New York Road Runners.

Thank you to our NYRR friends and partners for your continued support.

To our incredible volunteers,

Thank you for rising in the predawn hours, for braving winter's chill and summer's heat. Thank you for showing up early and staying late, for cheering on the last finishers as heartily as the first. As a volunteer you not only stand witness to the transformative power of running, you enable that power. Like running, volunteering is a deeply personal act that brings out the best in us. Volunteering requires commitment, dedication, and passion. Thank you for translating your devotion to running into a language of service that is seen, heard, and felt by our entire community.

In awe and with gratitude,

#TeamNYRR

#TeamNYRR

Committed, passionate, and the absolute heart and soul of NYRR, this is the team that makes the dream happen. From the youth of Rising New York Road Runners to the senior members of NYRR Striders, and every runner in between, thank you #TeamNYRR for making us soar as we fulfill our mission to help and inspire people through running.

TRIBUTE

Ted Corbitt

In 2019, NYRR commemorated the 100th birthday of our founding president, Ted Corbitt. Born on January 31, 1919 (the same day as fellow pioneer Jackie Robinson), Corbitt devoted his life to running—not just his own accomplishments, which included running 200,000 lifetime miles including 223 marathons and ultramarathons, but also creating opportunities for all. #TeamNYRR joins the rest of the running community in saluting his pioneering work as we continue to carry his legacy into the future.

DEDICATION

Peter Ciaccia

Leaving NYRR with a legacy that will last a lifetime

The 2018 TCS New York City Marathon marked the end of an era as Peter Ciaccia, the globally respected race director of the TCS New York City Marathon and the president of events at NYRR, retired.

“Peter is going out on top, like so many of us dream about. He leaves a legacy that will last a lifetime. His passion for making sure every runner has a safe and positive experience, from the pros to the final finishers, is a big reason why New York Road Runners is the world’s premier community running organization. And his attention to serving the community, from walks with seniors to runs with kids, is at the core of New York Road Runners’ not-for-profit mission,” said George Hirsch, chairman of the board of directors at NYRR.

During his 18-year tenure with NYRR, Ciaccia oversaw the planning and implementation of more than 1,000 world-class running events and was instrumental in their redesign and production.

Under Ciaccia’s leadership from before 2015 to 2018, the number of NYRR race finishers grew by 40%. Soaring growth was seen at the Popular® Brooklyn Half, now the largest half-marathon in the nation, and the TCS New York City Marathon, the largest marathon in the world.

Through his commitment to bettering our sport, Ciaccia has also left a lasting impact in the fight against doping in athletics through NYRR’s Run Clean initiative, has helped grow the Abbott World Marathon Majors into the preeminent marathon organization on earth, and has made significant contributions to the safety and security of all spectator sports.

His daily presence is missed, but his impact continues to be seen and felt every step of the way—happy retirement, Peter!

“Over the past 18 years, I have had the privilege of working with some of the most creative, innovative and dedicated individuals in the industry, and for that I will be forever grateful.”
